WHEREAS, the Parties wish to define their rights with respect to any such Information exchanged; and to protect the proprietary and novel features contained therein;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, the Parties agree as follows:

Article I

(1) Recipient agrees that all rights to the proprietary and novel features contained in the Information disclosed and communicated by Discloser, are reserved by Discloser; and Recipient will not use or disclose such proprietary and novel features to the benefit of itself or to the detriment of Discloser unless and until such use or disclosure is expressly authorized in writing by Discloser.

(2) Recipient agrees that the Information disclosed is and will remain the property of Discloser, and that such Information is not to be copied or reproduced without the express written permission of Discloser. Recipient may keep all such Information for ninety days for purposes of evaluation. After such time, Recipient agrees that originals and all copies of such Information are to be returned to Discloser, unless otherwise agreed in writing by Discloser.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in paragraphs (1) and (2) above, Recipient shall not be liable for any disclosure or use of any Information disclosed or communicated by Discloser if such Information:

(a) is publicly available or later becomes publicly available other than through a breach of this Agreement,

(b) is known to Recipient on the date it is received by Recipient, and Recipient informs Discloser of this knowledge within thirty days of receipt,

(c) is lawfully received by the Receiving Party from a third party after it is received by the Receiving Party from Discloser, or

(d) has been or may be subsequently developed by the Receiving Party without direct or indirect benefit of the Information received by the Receiving Party from Discloser.

(4) For the purpose of avoiding disclosure of information derived from Discloser, the Recipient shall use efforts fully commensurate with those which it employs for the protection of confidential information of its own.

(5) Information obtained by Recipient from Discloser is to be kept confidential by the Recipient for a period that is the lesser of: (a) three years from the date the information is obtained by Recipient from Discloser, or (b) the time that the information is made publicly available by Discloser or by other parties through no breach of this contract.

(6) Discloser shall mark all confidential Information in a distinguishing manner. Information disclosed verbally will be identified by Discloser as confidential at the time of disclosure, and will be confirmed in writing by Discloser within thirty days of disclosure.

Article II

Notwithstanding Article I, Recipient agrees that no license under any patent of Discloser, by implication or otherwise, or rights of any kind to Discloser's technology and know-how, are granted to Recipient under this Agreement.

Article III
